

EXTENDING AND REINFORCING GOOD PRACTICE IN TEACHER DEVELOPMENT

Our project

- offers a new program for doctoral students and junior university teachers that reflects the needs of Central and Eastern European context
- introduces a program for new teacher developers and prepares a group of qualified professionals
- researches the factors that contribute to and inhibit teacher development programs achieving their goals

In our research, we pay special attention to

- the role of trust in program participant relationships and program outcomes
- the nature of conversations about teaching and learning in participant workgroups and how they constrain/support participants while working to improve student learning
- the nature of participant relationships with their significant others and how they influence participants' pedagogic conceptions and teaching

The project will result in the design of two curricula, a number of scholarly papers and a book, which will be available from <https://euba.sk/qualityteaching>
